Dear Stry-Lenkoff Customer:

I would like to take this opportunity to wish you a safe and Happy Holiday Season. We really appreciate your support throughout the year and look forward to 2010. As you know, we have been working on some new and exciting products so stay tuned for more information. A complete listing of these new products will be sent in January.

Throughout the year we have been able to hold down cost on many different fronts. However, as hard as we try, some costs have continued to increase regardless of our preventative cost measures. Those products most affected are primarily associated with our custom products. Therefore, a price adjustment on select products will go into effect as of February 1st, 2010. A new price sheet will be sent out in early January highlighting those affected items.

Thank you again for your continued support.

Sincerely,

Rick Herndon
