To: All of our value customers and distributors

We are writing to inform you of the current business landscape in China. CPI has risen to its highest levels in China, increase in prices of paper, steel, diesel fuel, domestic freight costs, increase in wages for increase in number of workers, and inability of factories to find willing workers are all detrimental developments to the business. Yet, they are all integral to Wells' ability to supply you with our hangers as we have continually.

For these many reasons, we regret to inform you that we must make slight adjustments to some of the items we currently supply. The average increase is about 3 to 5% depend of the items. New quotation for price increase will send out next week. Effective date set for 08-08-2011. We encourage all customers head up inventories projection and if need to fill some orders please do so before price increase takes effect.

Thank you for your support and understanding.

Sincerely,

Jackson You
